Language of the Lungs
Student Data Page Activity 1B

Alphabet Soup Graphic Organizer

Directions. Each student should begin the activity by brainstorming and researching words that correspond to letters of the alphabet and have significance to the respiratory system. Remember that you need to find the words that best describe the respiratory system and quote your sources. Use the following spaces to organize your work.

A

B

C

D

E

F
Alphabet Soup Graphic Organizer

G
H
I
J
K
L
M
N
O
P

__________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________